

Sisters Speak Out Echo Event in Marion County, Kentucky

As we are aware, actions by our U.S. Government during this year have affected all of us in negative ways. Among these actions have been ending USAID, dismantling of public institutions and environmental protections, mass deporting of immigrants, abducting international students, discontinuing programs beneficial to farmers, workers and students.

June 24, 2025, Sisters and their supporters across the nation are holding an event in Washington, DC to call for just immigration and economic policies.

Loretto is joining in this national effort with an Echo Event on Saturday, July 12.

And YOU are invited!

Come join the Loretto Community and other Sisters of rural Kentucky

- in praying for all political leaders to enact just policies,
- in listening to people/communities affected by unjust policies,
- in standing in solidarity and speaking out for just, peaceful solutions.

Where: Marion County Library, Stewart Room, Lebanon, KY

When: July 12, 2025, 2:00—3:00 p.m.

RSVP: 650-219-9733 Let us know how many are coming.